Did you know?

The Florida Legislature meets in a 60 day regular session each spring. Lawmakers returned to Tallahassee on March 7th. The Florida Legislature is authorized by the Florida Constitution to create and amend the laws of our state. Legislatures propose legislation in the form of bills drafted by nonpartisan staff. Successful legislation must undergo committee review, three readings on the floor of each house with appropriate voting majorities, and either be signed into law by the governor or enacted through a veto override approved by 2/3 of each legislative house. On average, the Legislature passes about 300 bills into law annually. The Legislature will work to agree on a state budget of over 80 billion dollars.
